1844

No. 1. Whereas the Christian Education of the children and youth of the church lies at the foundation of her prosperity; whereas this matter has been and continues to be deplorably neglected in most of our churches, and whereas there is no probability that this object can be in any good degree attained, unless it be systematically and patiently pursued by the judicatories of the church---therefore

Resolved. That Drs. Janeway, Davidson, Magie and Murray and Messrs. John J. Bryant and James Crane be a committee to inquire whether any, and if any, what further measures ought to be adopted to secure the formation of a wise and efficient plan in regard to this subject, and for carrying the same into execution, and to make report at the next meeting of the Synod.

NO. 2 The committee of bills and overtures presented Overture No. 1 being a memorial from the Presbytery of Luzerne, respecting the appointment of a day of fasting and prayer and recommended the adoption of the following resolution.

Resolved. That in view of the very general absence of the special tokens of the divine favor in our congregations, the Synod hereby appoint the 1st Monday in January 1845, to be observed in all our churches as a day of humiliation, fasting and prayer, and recommend that our people abstain all worldly business on that day and devoutly attend upon such public exercises in their respective churches as the pastors and sessions may appoint humbly confessing the sins which cause the suspension of divine influence, and beseeching God of his great mercy to return and revive his work in all our churches--and it is recommended that the pastor present on the previous Sabbath, the reasons which have led to this appointment. viz: the low state of religion, and of practical benevolence compared with the external prosperity with which God has blessed us.

No. 3 The committee of Bills and Overtures reported Overture No. 2 being a memorial from the Presbytery of Luzerne, asking the aid of the Synod in supplying missionary labor within the bounds of said Presbytery--The committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution.

Resolved. That this Synod feel a deep and lively interest in the efforts which the brethren are making to supply the destitute within the bounds of the Presbytery of Luzerne. But as the Synod has neither the labourers, nor the means of their support at their disposal, they can only commend their case to our Board of Domestic Missions, hoping that the means already adopted by the Synod will put the board in funds, so that they will be able in some good degree to respond to the calls of our brethren.

NARRATIVE OF THE STATE OF RELIGION

That during the Past Synodical year, this part of zion has enjoyed a remarkable degree of external prosperity. Nearly all the Presbyteries report an unusually increased attendance on the public services of the sanctuary and a disposition to lend a listening ear to the preached word. Old wastes have been occupied-churches have been organized, or the way is prepared for their organization-new church edifices have been erected or are in the process of erection, and several feeble congregations have been so strengthened that they have ceased to depend for their support on the assistance of the Board of Domestic Missions. There has been awakened in the midst of us a growing interest in the work of supplying with the regular ministrations of the gospel, the destitute regions within our bounds. One of the Presbyteries in Pennsylvania, reports that "nearly every destitute congregation has been furnished with the regular preaching of the word and measures have been taken for their thorough supply." A Presbytery in this state has also entered on the work of Evangelizing that wide section within our limits containing from 40 to 50 thousand inhabitants and known as the "Pines of New Jersey," Two missionaries are now in that field and the regions adjacent. It is evident that the distinctive doctrines and principles of Presbyterianism are surely, though gradually and silently extending their influence and taking deeper root in the minds of the people.

The Sabbath School cause is in general prosperous. From the reports, it appears that the value of Bible classes is appreciated and that marked attention is paid by our pastors and elders to instruction in the shorter catechism of the Westminster Assembly. A becoming effort has been made to direct the attention of our youth to the importance of preparing themselves for the service of the church, and a goodly number of young men have been licensed as probationers for the gospel ministry.

The cause of Temperance has not on the whole been retrograde, though fears are expressed lest the increased abundance of the fruits of the earth the present season, may by abuse be followed with disastrous consequences.

As a Synod we have reason for gratitude and devout thanksgiving that so great a degree of harmony and peace prevails throughout our churches, that the relation between pastors and people is so amicable and that we have not been disturbed, as is the case in some parts of the land, by the evils of an unsettled and perpetually changing ministry.

And it is with pleasure we are permitted to record that notwithstanding all our unworthiness, God has not wholly forgotten to be gracious. Four of the Presbyteries report that some of their churches have been blessed with a refreshing from the presence of the Lord, and that additions have been made to their numbers, of hopeful subjects of renewing grace.

The college of New Jersey within our bounds is in its usually prosperous state, having a somewhat larger number of students than during the last year, an unusually large portion of whom are professed pious.

The College of La Fayette at Easton has also been well sustained during the past year.

The Theological Seminary at Princeton is in a flourishing condition, and now has a greater number of students, than has been connected with it, at any one time since its foundations.

We are called at this time to drop a tear over the grave of one of our number. The Rev. Sylvester Eaton of the Presbytery of Elizabethtown, has during the past year been called home to his rest, admonishing us to prepare for our departure while it calls for thankfulness, that so many of us are still spared.

In conclusion your committee are compelled to state that there is much occasion for mourning and deep humiliation before God, and that the absence of the special tokens of divine favor in most of our churches calls loudly upon pastors and elders and private members to supplicate the Great Head of the church with earnestness and increasing importunity that He would return and visit us as in days that are past.

Whether we do not suffer our attention to be too much engrossed with the exciting topics which agitate the public mind-whether we are exerting ourselves as we ought to prevent the desecration of God's holy day in the midst of us-whether we contribute all in our power to sustain the benevolent institutions of our church, and extend the Redeemer's Kingdom, whether we have not far too little spirituality of soul and ardor of devotion to our master's service-these are questions of grave import, which should perhaps lead us as a Synod to inquire farther, whether God might not well address us in the language of the prophets. "Bring ye all the tithes into the store-house, that there may be meat in my house, and prove we now herewith, whether I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it.
